Thunder Snatch

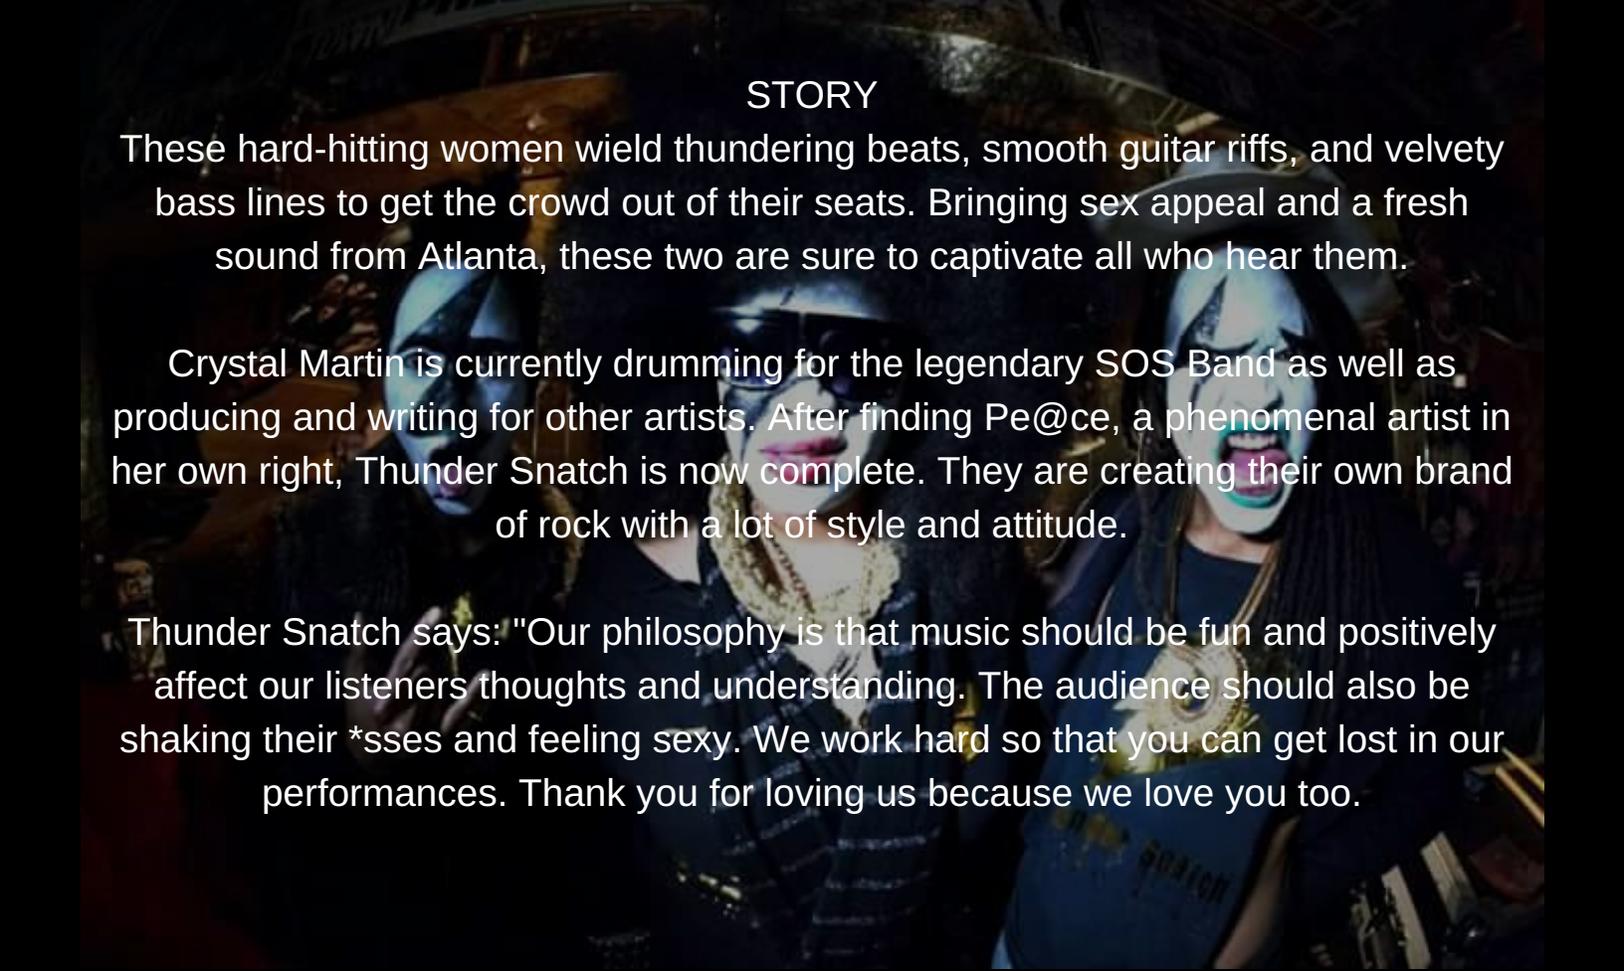

STORY

These hard-hitting women wield thundering beats, smooth guitar riffs, and velvety bass lines to get the crowd out of their seats. Bringing sex appeal and a fresh sound from Atlanta, these two are sure to captivate all who hear them.

Crystal Martin is currently drumming for the legendary SOS Band as well as producing and writing for other artists. After finding Pe@ce, a phenomenal artist in her own right, Thunder Snatch is now complete. They are creating their own brand of rock with a lot of style and attitude.

Thunder Snatch says: "Our philosophy is that music should be fun and positively affect our listeners thoughts and understanding. The audience should also be shaking their *sses and feeling sexy. We work hard so that you can get lost in our performances. Thank you for loving us because we love you too."

A.M.M.O

BIO

Born as Cadare Bonner, but goes by A.M.M.O (A Man of My Own.) He was born in Americus, GA on November 22, 1987.

A.M.M.O was raised all over South GA where he was introduced to all types of music.

He began to write his own music at the age of 11, but did not take it serious until the age of 16. Once discovering how talented he really was, he began to do talent shows and local showcases for exposure. Anything to be in the light!

As A.M.M.O began to perfect his style he joined a few groups along the way. He learned how to work as a team and how to make multiple voices mesh. The older he got the more he realized a solo career was the best decision for him. So, he began to work on building himself as a solo artist.

After years of trying and failing, he finally got it right. He began developing his own beats, producing his own tracks as well as tracks and beats for other artists. He was determined to get himself seen or heard any way necessary. Perfecting his talent with production led to him finding his true self as an artist. Once that happened, it was nothing but up after.

In 2009, while in the studio recording, A.M.M.O had the pleasure to meet Shawn Jay of Field Mob which led to them doing a track together. He has also done songs with Swazy of Slip-N-Slide and Looni of FDU.

A.M.M.O is now currently working with Victoria Bullock, C.E.O. of SweepaNation Ent., as well as Street Sweepa himself.

A.M.M.O's current single is called "Dey Gon Hate" and he is working on releasing his first major mixtape around Winter of 2016. With many things in the making, this is one artist who you do not want to miss. Keep your eyes and ears open on this one!! Follow:
